Description

This 1988 Mariner 3400 flybridge cruiser has become an Aussie icon. Recently fitted with brand new Yanmar 230hp diesels, this Mariner 3400 takes performance and reliability to the next level.

The 3400 replaced the 34 Mariner in 1985 and was immediately hailed as being totally superior in terms of performance, handling, layout, style, construction and finish, in part due to her new hull design taken from the Savage 34 which was well respected and renowned for class leading offshore seakindliness and ability.

Boasting canvas, clears, carpets and upholstery that have all been replaced during the current owners tenure, "Splashdown" presents as an excellent example of this model with only the application of personal touches to make her into your own apartment on the water.

Recent comprehensive engine servicing, antifoul including propspeed coverage, and a complete hull polish have ensured she is turn key ready for her new owner and the start of her next adventure !

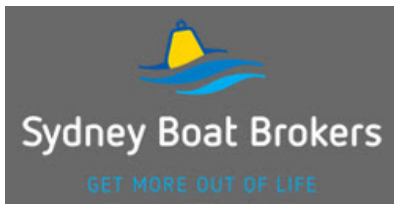

If you are considering Riviera, Searay, Ranger, Bertram or similar in terms of a flybridge cruiser, treat yourself to an inspection of this excellent two cabin, twin helm Australian built vessel with new motors and an enviable pedigree - you will be impressed ! Call to arrange a suitable time and day to inspect.
